Notes and News of a General and Telegraphic Nature.

The Foreign World Sketched by Special Dispatches and Otherwise.

Thanksgiving in Bucharest—Interpellation in Italy.

Cockburn's Funeral—Other General Intelligence.

Italian Interpellation.

ROME, Nov. 26.—In the chamber of deputies Premier Carli, in reply to an interpellation said: "In accordance with the other powers, the government has used efforts to guard Italian interests in force, and had De Wounded guarantees for recompense in event of detriment to those." In answer to another question he stated that the general situation in Tunis is difficult, but there is no present cause for apprehension.

Cockburn's Funeral.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—All law courts except the Chancery division, will close for the funeral of the late Chief Justice Cockburn at Kensal Green. All common law judges will attend the funeral. The queen, the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Edinburgh will be represented.

The London News.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The News, in a leading article, says: It may be safely assumed that parliament will meet early in January—as the cabinet have come to the conclusion that coercion is necessary at present. The ministers are carefully considering an Irish land bill.

Dulcigno.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—A dispatch to the Standard from a Baldis says the Montenegrins have expressed their readiness to take possession of Dulcigno to-day.

Dervish Pasha has made several arrests in Dulcigno.

Thanksgiving in Bucharest.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—A dispatch from Bucharest reports that the American colony there gave a Thanksgiving dinner last night.

Bismarck.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—A dispatch from Berlin says nothing is known here of the reported serious illness of Bismarck, who is merely suffering from rheumatism.

THE RAILROADS.

Local, General and Personal Notes. The Wabash shops at Toledo did not shut down yesterday.

The Grand Rapids & Indiana are finishing some very fine new cars at their shops in Grand Rapids.

Passenger business on the Pittsburgh is on the increase, with an extra emergency train every few days.

James Morgan has assumed charge of the Pittsburgh round house during the sickness of Mr. Buckwalter.

Engine No. 11, of the Grand Rapids road, came out of the shops Saturday, and Seth Murphy is at home once more.

The Grand Rapids & Indiana is prospecting between Little Traverse and Mackinac preparatory to extending their line this season.

Angola seeks an outlet by way of the Lake Shore road. The Republican of this week editorially comments as follows: Now is the time for Angola to make an effort to secure the Lake Shore air line railroad. We believe if our citizens take hold of the matter in an energetic manner that the road will be located through this place, otherwise, it will undoubtedly be built on the Canada Southern survey.

Lafayette Journal: Judge Drummond has decided that the receivers of the Columbus, Chicago & Indiana Central must pay the owners of land along the line of the old Logansport & State Line road, in Benton and Newton counties, for the right of way at the present value of the land. The road was originally built without a condemnation, and the present owners sued, and have recovered judgment for the value of their property.

REAL ESTATE.

A New Scheme for Fort Wayne.

From an exchange of a recent date, a new idea was gained in regard to the letting of real estate. Let the dealers and agents of real estate form a pool or syndicate during the coming season that will enable them to handle their property with better advantage, especially in the matter of rents. It would evidently be impossible to get up a "corner" on real estate, with the abundance of eligibly located corner lots there are lying around loose, but the plan is to have a central bureau or intelligence office, where at least something can be done towards fixing the rate of rental similar to the insurance appraiser. But the advantage to be gained is not only in the price of houses, but in the quality of the tenants. When a house rented by any agent becomes vacant it can be reported to the "central office," with a description of it, and the price given, or left to be fixed by the appraiser. Then a "black list" is to be kept, containing the names of those parties who have suddenly moved out of any house and forgotten to pay up the rent. When any one applies to a real estate agent who is a member of the syndicate for a house, the agent can telephone or send word to the central bureau to get the standing of this tenant, just as a wholesale firm would get the rating of some retailers from a commercial agency. The central manager can see if he has the name on his black list, and make such other report as he may see fit.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Says the Plymouth Democrat: E. J. Brownlee, of Fort Wayne, was visiting his parents in this city last week.

—A. C. Greenbaum is back from a flying visit to Chicago, and returns again to-morrow to spend Sunday in that village.

—Miss Nora Davis, former sales lady in the Home sewing machine office, has accepted a similar position in the Singer office.

—Andy Gluting, the genial clerk of the recorder's office, is improving rapidly and will be out to see his friends in a few days.

—Gerald E. Sullivan, an attorney at law, from Tiffin, O., and a classmate of Wm. Breen, esq., passed the day in the city yesterday.

—L. T. Bagley, city clerk of Huntington, spent his Thanksgiving in this city, and was well pleased with his "hash," and made many friends while here.

—Wm. Long, esq., ex-county commissioner of Allen county, now a resident of Millersburg, Elkhart county, is in the city visiting his old friends and acquaintances.

—Mrs. J. M. Brewer, of Chicago, who is to take the title role in the Butterfield opera, is in the city. Also Miss Jennie Welch, of New Castle, who takes the part of June Denny.

—W. W. Reed, of the Mayer house, went to Mansfield, Ohio, in answer to a telegram announcing the serious illness of his brother, E. P. Reed, and telegraphs back that his brother died shortly after his arrival there.

—Persons from the Bluffton Chronicle: Charles S. Brackenridge, Fort Wayne's city civil engineer, was married yesterday to Miss Hattie King, of that city. Carrie Shannon is visiting in Fort Wayne.

—From the Angola Herald: Mrs. Callie Kinney returned Monday from Fort Wayne, where she had been spending a few days with friends. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wolf and Miss Amelia Wolf, all of Fort Wayne, spent Sunday in town, the guests of the Stiefels.

—J. B. Rush, Columbia City; H. A. Williams, Chicago; J. Heyn, Toledo; J. Becker, New York; A. B. Eads, Peoria, Ill.; B. F. Rasin, New York; F. H. Wells, Union Pacific railroad; F. J. Nixon, Richmond; C. A. Kalmers, A. W. Bond, New York; J. M. Colvin, Detroit; P. Lyon, C. A. Barnum, New York; W. McArthur, W. T. Mayhew, Chicago, took their turkey at the Aveline yesterday.

—Persons from the Steuben Republican: Mrs. C. F. Kinney visited in Fort Wayne last week. Miss Josie Sowle is the guest of Mrs. Cora Newell, of Fort Wayne. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wolf, Miss Amelia Wolf and Mr. Victor Wolf of Fort Wayne, spent the Sabbath here. Herman Sholze, draughtsman in the Wabash shops at Fort Wayne, son of our German friend T. Sholze, is visiting a few days in Angola.

LAND LAW

Predominates Over the Law of Ministers in Unhappy Ireland.

A State of Seething Turmoil, Which Threatens the World.

Death of William R. Floyd—Big Fire in Cincinnati.

A Couple Found Frozen in Chicago—General News.

Lawlessness in Ireland.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Times says: We fear Foster was unable yesterday to encourage his colleagues with the report that lawlessness is abating in Ireland. It is too plain the most detestable outrages daily occur and that unparalleled terrorism has been imposed upon by three Irish counties. The law is almost powerless to prevent these crimes or to punish the criminal. The authorities have made every effort to protect life and property by employing the ordinary forces, but the conspiracy is too strong and subtle to be so restrained. The utmost that can be done effectually at present is to defend the few persons who are threatened. Some eighty Irish gentlemen are under police protection. Legal enforcement of contracts relating to land is at an end in most parts of Munster and Connaught, and the lawlessness of the peasantry, and of the masses in the towns is seething and spreading. These facts continue to cause grave anxiety to the authorities of Ireland and we may conclude that the cabinet has not resolved to set aside their views, even for a short time, without much hesitation and misgiving, but the decision has been adopted partly on faith of hopes which spring eternally in the ministerial breast.

Fearfully Crushed.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 26.—Cornelius Riley, a day engineer, was crushed by cars in the Hannibal yard last night. It is supposed that a car which was being switched struck Riley. This was about 12 o'clock. When found he was lying on his back with both feet wedged in the truck of the car. It was with great effort that he was extricated. Jack-screws had to be obtained and the body of the car lifted up. Riley was taken to the Sisters' hospital. This morning it became necessary to amputate his left leg, which was frightfully crushed. There is very little hope that the injured man can recover. Riley is twenty-four years old and had been with the Hannibal company a long time. His parents reside in this city.

The Notorious Dr. Buchanan.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—The jury in the case of Dr. Buchanan, Martin N. Chapman and Thomas Vanduzer, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government of $5,000, the amount of the recognition of the first named prisoner, returned a verdict of guilty as to Buchanan and Chapman and acquittal as to Vanduzer. The trial of Buchanan upon the charge with swindling and using the mail for that purpose is fixed for Tuesday next.

Violating the Revenue Law.

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 26.—Edward Payne of West Liberty, Jackson county, is in jail here awaiting an examination on charge of violating the revenue law by selling liquor at retail without paying the special tax. He will be accorded a hearing on Saturday.

Railroad Accident.

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 26.—The rear coach on the south bound train on the Chicago & Santa Fe railway was thrown from the track near Angola, injuring two ladies and one old gentleman, the latter seriously.

Murdered.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Nov. 26.—Charles, an aged colored man of this city, was murdered here last night, during a party at the house of Charles Moss. Henry Williams and Charles Moss are arrested.

Notice.

All those buying $1.00 worth of goods in millinery or notions will receive a ticket in a handsome silk doilman, at Mrs. V. A. SALLEY, near A. M. BAKER.

Fire at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 26.—A fire broke out this morning in the rear of the building, No. 46 Walnut street, occupied by Moenke, Janzen & Co., wholesale grocers and dealers in liquors, and destroyed the entire rear part and the roof of a five story building with most of the contents. Moenke Janzen & Co.'s loss is $25,000; insurance $21,000. The building was owned by James Gillmore, and was damaged $15,000, fully insured. Abner L. Frazer & Co., No. 44 Walnut street, wholesale grocer was damaged considerably by water.

Found Frozen.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—The body of an unknown woman was found yesterday in the back yard of a house on Butterfield street, frozen stiff, and lying by her side, also nearly frozen, was a man named John Kean, from Greenbay. Both had drunk to excess the night before, and became helpless from liquor and cold. Kean claimed to have known nothing of his companion, who was a stranger to the police, but was evidently a disipated character.

The McGovern Perjury Case.

BROWNSTOWN, Ind., Nov. 26.—The attorneys for the defense in the celebrated perjury case of Thomas McGovern, a sequel to the Jennings county conspiracy cases have just discovered that one of the grand jurors finding the indictment was not a freeholder, which, under a recent decision of the supreme court, disqualifies him, and renders the indictment invalid. The case was set for trial today, and will, of course, be nollied, and as the limit has expired no new indictment can be found; so this will probably terminate this celebrated case.

An Important Trial.

GREENCASTLE, Nov. 26.—Considerable interest is being taken in the trial of Thomas L. Matkin, esq., of this county, on a charge of obtaining money from the Thames Loan and Trust company under false pretenses. He, with two others, are charged with conspiring together and obtaining the sum of $3,200 from this company, by showing the agents certain valuable lands, and making the mortgage to cover other land. The people are of the impression that the charge is false.

Crushed to Death.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 26.—John Dolan, night watchman of the Louisville & Nashville railway, was crushed to death this morning by a freight train.

ADDITIONAL CITY NEWS.

Put up your sleighs. Frank Falker is just too handsome for any use when he dons his skates.

The young man with a fast stepper, nice sleigh and plenty of robes is praying for more snow. So are the girls.

Henry Rouscup, formerly a printer of this city, has started a daily newspaper at Ann Arbor, Michigan. It is to supply a long felt want.

The Methodist college students are having a jolly time coasting on the hill back of the college building, and seem to enjoy it just as much as any other children.

Wright W. Rockhill will be a candidate for city clerk, and will, no doubt, work up a big boom by the time the convention meets. Wright is one of the most promising young men in the city, and is very popular with the people of both parties.

Quite a number of interesting letters were found in a house on Maumee Avenue, lately occupied by a couple of the demi monde, which would make some of our high toned young men squirm and cause the more knowing ones to laugh if the reporters could only get hold of them.

Dick Myers, turnkey at the jail, took a tumble this morning from the top of a step ladder, where he had climbed in order to hang a large looking glass. Dick had been cleaning house, whitewashing, etc., but says he don't care how things look, if he will only be able to sit down to enjoy his meals in the course of a week.

J. T. Reber, New York; E. W. Staple, jr., New York; B. G. Eaton, Detroit; J. F. Lansing, Cleveland; W. Shout, St. Thomas, Ont.; J. J. James, Cleveland; E. Adams, Chicago; — Mendry, Arcola, Ind.; C. W. Mansfield, Detroit; W. H. Starr, Bluffton; J. M. Hall, Chicago; A. Potter, Salem, O.; D. Darling, Avilla, Ind.; G. W. Eakle, Indianapolis; S. G. Robertson, Paulding, O.; J. B. Randall, Athens, O.; J. T. Freshorn, Allegheny, Pa.; L. London, New Britton; E. P. Adams, Jackson, were at the Mayer house yesterday.

CHURCH CHIMES.

How the Day was Observed by the Praying Public.

At the Trinity Episcopal church the services were of the most impressive character and the music was, as usual, exceedingly good. The house was well filled with an appreciative audience.

At the church of the Holy Trinity, the services were conducted by Rev. S. Wagenhals, and the music and sermon were appreciated by a large number of people.

At the First Presbyterian church the services were conducted by the Baptist, Congregational and Presbyterian members with Rev. W. B. Minton in the pulpit, who delivered an unusual fine sermon to his delighted hearers.

At the Christian church Rev. W. Aylsworth held his audience spell-bound for over an hour while he delivered one of his usual fine sermons.

The South Wayne Christian Temperance union held their services at the Church of God, and the house was filled to overflowing by the people of all creeds. The services were of a very high character.

Lade's Lay Out.

Max G. Lade, the well known dealer in sporting goods, desires to call the attention of the public to his large stock of sporting goods which he is now displaying. This stock was selected with great care by Mr. Lade expressly for his trade here. His large and ever increasing patronage are the best guarantees that his goods are the best, and his method of doing business the squarest of the square. He is thoroughly equipped, for the skating season, having the largest and finest stock of skates in the city, guns of every conceivable style and make, and sporting goods of all kinds can be found always among his stock, which he never allows to run low. He enjoys the reputation of being a leader of his trade in this city, and this position has been won by having, partly through his business methods and partly through the excellence and satisfaction given by every article leaving his store. His facilities for repairing guns on short notice are unexcelled, and he never fails to give satisfaction. Call on him at once.

Obituary.

On Wednesday evening at about 8 o'clock Mrs. Marshall Wines, widow of the late Col. Marshall Wines, died at her residence, No. 132 East Main street, after a short and painless illness of only a week's duration. Mrs. Wines was always noted as one of the most charitable and noble women of the city and her death will be mourned by hosts of friends, who will ever cherish none but the kindest feelings of her good and pure life. Mrs. Wines was seventy-four years old at the time of her death and has always enjoyed good health. She leaves two daughters, —Mrs. S. C. Hoffman, of the post office, and Mrs. Bottsford and one son, Marshall Wines, of Washington, D. C., to mourn her loss. The funeral will take place to-morrow.

Lost.

On Wednesday, a needle case, containing GOLD THIMBLE. The finder will receive a reward by leaving at this office.

Gotham—Death—Personal.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Wm. R. Floyd, the well known actor and manager, died in his home in this city, yesterday, aged 48. Mr. Floyd began his theatrical career in Wallack's theatre, in 1852. While stage manager of an amphitheatre in Chicago Mr. Floyd and Miss Harrode, an actress of ability, were married.

Rev. Dr. O'Callaghan, of Cincinnati, has returned from Europe. He expects to complete his business here and reach his home in about ten days.

Disabled Steamer.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The German steamer Katie, Captain Wise, from Glasgow, November 15, for New York, has arrived at Queenstown after being at sea ten days. Her decks were swept and the engines are out of order.

Failed.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26.—Charles J. Steinau & Co., wholesale jewelers at 79 West Fourth street, made an assignment to L. C. Jack. No statement has been made of the assets and liabilities.

Instantly Killed.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26.—Henry Neihau, 50 years old, employed at Hart-sell's felling works, was caught in the shafting this morning and instantly killed.

They Quarreled.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Thos. Murray, aged 36, was fatally injured today by Henry Brown, during a quarrel at 119 Norfolk street.

SPORTING EMPORIUM.

Miller & Raquet's Immense Stock.

Messrs. Miller & Raquet, the enterprising dealers in sporting goods, at 24 West Main street, desire to call the attention of the sporting fraternity to the recent large additions made to their stock. This firm, as soon as established, jumped at once to the foremost place among their competitors, and this position they have steadfastly maintained by reason of their low prices, and general satisfaction which their goods have given. Their stock of sporting goods at present is the finest in the city. They have recently been appointed agents for the celebrated Baker gun, probably the best article of the kind in the American market at present. It has found universal favor among the sporting classes of the east and is fast creeping into popularity throughout the west.

Messrs. Miller & Raquet respectfully invite the public generally to call and see them. They esteem it a pleasure to show goods, whether you purchase or not, and you will be courteously treated, of that you may rest assured.

POLICE COURT.

Justice W. T. Pratt Presiding. FRIDAY, November 26.

George O'Hern, a drunk and disorderly was released yesterday morning, so he could enjoy his turkey at leisure.

This morning Justice Pratt, acting mayor, fined Frank Donovan, a McKinnin house employee, $10 and in lieu of the cost sent him to the Hotel de Cosgrove for fifteen days to board it out.

John G. Fledderman, the most reliable and experienced merchant tailor in the city. Give him a call. oct21tf

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 26.

BY E. A. K. HACKETT.

GOVERNOR FOSTER must be how legged and bagged kneed carrying the Ohio legislature around in his pocket.

ONE day has passed and no new cabinet has been made for President Garfield; but then it was Thanksgiving and radical souls were devouring the national turkey and not each other.

THE Toledo Telegram hits the nail on the head when it says: What the press of this country most demands just now is a man at the head of the Patent office who can give us a paste that will not freeze up and a paste brush that the rats can't eat.

DAWES has the Massachusetts legislature in his pocket; Hawley has the Connecticut law makers in his; Foster has his hand on the Ohio representatives, and the Lord knows how many more state assemblies have been pocketed. These republicans are high steppers, they are.

THE position of disbursing agent for the United States government in London is a very easy and lucrative one. The agency gets one per cent, on the amount disbursed, and for the navy alone last year the percentage amounted to $17,246. Who wouldn't be a disbursing agent?

THE PASSION PLAY. A telegram which appeared in THE SENTINEL, a day or so ago bore a deeper significance to the religious community than a casual glance would have observed. We reproduce it:

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The board of aldermen to-day adopted a resolution, condemning the proposed production of the Passion play, and calling upon the corporation attorney to give an opinion as to whether the existing laws are sufficient to prevent its introduction. That official is also asked, if no law exists, to state whether the common council has the power to pass an act to prohibit the play, and if it has, is instructed to prepare an ordinance that will cover the case.

It is scarcely to be doubted that the impudent purpose of a third rate actor to represent this so-called "Passion Play" in New York will be prevented. It shocks not only the religious feeling of the churches, but that common respect for religion whose existence is often questioned, but which reveals itself when there is occasion, and with fully as much effect as the opinions of the churches can produce. This was seen in San Francisco last year, where this same fellow was fined and a city ordinance passed against his enterprise, and yet San Francisco would not be suspected of a lively jealousy for christianity. The only defense of this attempt to put the story of Jesus on the stage seems to be to cite Oberammergau, but it is plain to a child that except under the same religious conditions as those of the Bavarian village one can draw no argument from its production there. Indeed, these simple peasants' performance has become so vulgarized by the sight-seeing of the present year that it is even a question whether it will be repeated. Here there could be no pretense of any religious consideration in the presentation of a Passion play; it would be simply an inferior piece of theatricals, outraging the faith and worship of all christians. The expression of disapproval from the ministers of New York, however, which some papers have taken pains to obtain, counts for little, because it is a matter of course, but behind it rests public opinion, and it is most unlikely that this force will be found weaker on the Atlantic than on the Pacific coast.

Every man who respects religion, even if he do not love it, will sincerely hope there is some means to prevent its production.

GOVERNOR WILLIAMS.

Pittsburgh Post.

THE death of Governor Williams will be much regretted by the honest yeomanry of Indiana; he was one of them, and a pioneer of the state. He had the homely virtues of economy, honesty and plainness of speech and dress, while his political opinions were simple and straight forward.

Logansport Pharos.

HE was one of God's noblest works, an honest man. He was not possessed of brilliant talents, but he knew the difference between right and wrong, and ever cherished the right. His honesty commended him to the people and his watchful care of their interests made him a trusted servant. His simplicity of style and manners has become proverbial. He was a democrat in the strictest sense of the word. He studied well the lives of the founders of democracy. He cherished their services to their country and imitated their example in the discharge of his official duties. As a democrat he treated every citizen of any party with that courtesy and respect which is due one citizen from another. He saw the good of the country in the principles of true democracy. Those of different political opinions who knew him best testify to his uprightness as a citizen and his kind treatment of the followers of all political parties. In the death of Governor Williams the state loses an honest politician. He leaves a pure and spotless record and a name worthy to be remembered by the people whom he served so faithfully. Peace to his ashes.

Indianapolis News.

THERE is sincere sorrow at Governor Williams's death. The highest office in the gift of the state came to him unsought. His administration of it showed that he meant to do his duty. He was not at all times adequate to the responsibilities placed upon him. With unaffected simplicity he was aware of this and trusted to the advice of others when his own native sense and rugged honesty would have been better guides. Whatever his mistakes none were laid up against him, and in the four years of his term as governor he won the respect of political opponents. He impressed those who came in contact with him as an honest-minded, simple-hearted man, and in the ending of a life full of years and honor it can hardly be that he leaves an enemy in the whole state, or any with whom a kindly memory of him will not linger. His life was a successful one, for the world can judge of a life. From the simplest beginnings he made his way steadily and peacefully to a comfortable independence. He grew in the regards of those who knew him best, and became the representative of his community, possessing their trust and confidence unencumbered. His life might stand as an encouragement and example for the steadfast discharge of the simple duties that may come in the life of the humblest. Faithfully done, they may be stepping stones to higher things.

Richmond Palladium.

THE announcement of the sad event has been received by the people of Indiana with sincere manifestation of sorrow. During the almost four years he has filled the office of governor he has been constantly growing in the confidence and respect of the people of all parties, and in passing away leaves none who knew him that did not honor and esteem him for the many virtues he possessed. His chief characteristic was his inflexible honesty of purpose; he aimed to do right under all circumstances and erred only when his judgment was misled. He was not a great man, but he was what is more important—an honest man.

New York Express.

THE death of Governor Williams, of Indiana, deprives that state of one of its ablest and best citizens, and the country of a faithful public man.

Kansas City Star.

HE was a noted man and one possessing marked traits of character. He was one of the pioneers of Indiana, and did his full share towards making the wilderness of that state to "blossom as a rose." Since early manhood he had been conspicuous in the affairs of the state. Gov. Williams's distinguishing qualities were his sturdy honesty, strong common sense and perfect simplicity of manner. He was utterly deficient in culture and polish, and was regarded by many as not dignified enough for the office of governor; but this objection did not weigh with the people of the state, who knew him so well. The governor was tall, awkward and ungainly in appearance. All of his life he had been in the habit of dressing in homespun jeans, and when congressional and gubernatorial honors were accorded him, he did not think it necessary to discard this homely but modest and sensible attire; hence the sobriquet "Blue Jeans," by which he was known all over the United States.

THAT Captain Hettler will remain in the council.

THAT the usual verdict of the coroner's jury is "frozen to death."

THAT Governor Foster paid Sherman's bills at Chicago, amounting to $2,800.

THAT Calico Charley stands the best show of being United States senator from Ohio.

THAT, if this kind of weather keeps on, they'll have to put stoves in the ice wagons to keep the ice from freezing.

THAT the Toledo papers know less about Toledo news and assume to be better newspapers than periodicals only a few miles away.

THAT this isn't very pleasant sort of weather for big-legged breeches. It makes the boys feel like they were walking upon a pair of icicles.

WABASH.

The Lecture Course—General and Personal News.

Correspondence of The Sentinel.
WABASH, Nov. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Beegan are expected to return from their bridal trip to Chicago, Friday, and in the evening a reception will be tendered them at the residence of I. M. Blount.

The lecture course decided upon is as follows: George R. Wendling, Marie Litta's concert company, Mrs. Livermore, B. F. Taylor, A. P. Burbank and Remenyi's concert company. The dates have not all been arranged as yet.

The Wabash railway depot in this city has been undergoing repairs for some weeks past, and is now nearly ready for occupancy again. The building is now lighted by gas.

Barlow, Wilson, Primrose & West's minstrels are coming December 9, and the Boston Ideal "Uncle Tom" troupe will be here December 15.

The new jail building is about ready for occupancy. Sheriff Ross, however, declines to take up his abode in that part of the building designed for the residence of that officer.

A poultry dealer yesterday shipped a ton and a half of dressed chickens and geese from this city.

The epizooty is losing its grip on the horses in this vicinity.

A clear head and quick action must be possessed for steady and successful effort; but who can have such while suffering from cold? Use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and procure immediate relief.

Mr. H. C. Bevering, the well-known druggist of Wausau, Wis., says: The great remedy, St. Jacobs Oil, is having an unprecedented sale; much larger than that of all other remedies combined, gives every customer complete satisfaction. I myself could testify to the rapid pain-extracting qualities of the oil. Some time since, my right leg began to swell, and became partially paralyzed; in fact to such a degree as to interfere with my walking. I used the oil three or four times, and it performed a perfect cure. Therefore, I conscientiously recommend the oil to my customers, knowing full well that it will do all that is claimed for it.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 26.

FORT WAYNE.

Sleighting is played out.
Yesterday was a Turkey-ish sort of a day.

Everybody enjoyed Thanksgiving yesterday.

The city was full of "fowl" stomachs yesterday.

John Stevens is the happy father of a bouncing girl.

War was carried into turkey with a vengeance yesterday.

Broadway is looming up in the wood and produce business.

The turkey has suddenly been dropped from conversation.

Two weddings and a festival were the attractions at Wallin yesterday.

Mr. William Louder rejoices over the advent of a new boy at his house.

Two horses ran away on Holman street this morning without doing any damage.

A number of Olympic stars went to Antwerp and Toledo on Wednesday night.

Thanksgiving services were held in a number of the churches and were well attended.

Raffling and shooting matches were held in different parts of the city Wednesday.

The reformed men's social on Wednesday evening was well attended and highly enjoyable.

A most enjoyable social was held at the Methodist College last evening and was largely attended.

The free lunch fiend was in his glory yesterday and filled himself up with the dainties of the season.

A Japanese commercial traveler was in the city to-day as the representative of a New York house.

The gates at the Broadway and Fairfield avenue crossings are giving general satisfaction to the public.

The bills of fare at the hotels yesterday were simply immense, and the boarders are correspondingly happy.

Sara Bernhardt did not celebrate Thanksgiving because she could not find a turkey that could talk French.

Several tramps enjoyed the city's hospitality over Thanksgiving. This cold weather is bringing the gentry in.

The Olympic performers would gladly leave town if any other way than walker's route were open to them.

Candidates for the city marshalship are looming up in formidable numbers and the contest will be a hot one for that position.

The bird's eye view of Fort Wayne is nearly completed and it will be delivered before Christmas, if possible, to subscribers.

An exchange remarks that that beloved season of the year when about one-half of the population "swear off" will soon be here.

The canal basin was filled with a jolly crowd of youngsters yesterday and spread eagles, stars, etc., were cut by the fancy skaters.

The candidates for the postmaster-ship are laying their plans to capture the postoffice and all seem to think they have a sure thing of it.

Messrs. Congdon & Mitchell, of the Dispatch-Enterprise, have agreed to dispart, and will no doubt dissolve partnership in a short time.

The Pirouette club had a very pleasant and sociable time at the residence of Jerome Studer, Spy Run avenue, Wednesday evening.

A dog howled in the West End the other night, and now all the old women in the neighborhood are predicting the death of some one.

The organ factory boys enjoyed their ball on Wednesday evening to its fullest extent. The occasion was a happy one and well attended.

The farmers are taking advantage of the present good roads, and wheat, hay, oats, corn and wood are being brought into the city in large quantities.

Many family dinner parties were held in the city yesterday, and as the turkey, goose or duck disappeared many interesting incidents were recalled.

The hospital patients had their hearts made glad yesterday by the bountiful repasts which were served to them by the charitably inclined of the city.

The Lionier Banner says, Saurr, the man who has for the past week been on trial for murder, here was formerly a resident of Wawaka.

Call on Shoaff for your photos. He is the leader of his profession in this city, and his work challenges the best efforts of his competitors.

Rabbits, deer and quail are being brought into the market in large numbers and hunters report plenty of game in the surrounding country.

A. C. Greenebaum, J. P., fastened the bans on John L. Tillman and Lucinda Bugar yesterday at 2 o'clock, and hereafter they will chew their turkey-together.

The clerks of the different county offices are standing around to-day picking turkey and oysters out of their teeth, and feel that it was "good to be there yesterday."

Most of the business houses were closed yesterday, and the employees were out in force to enjoy their Thanksgiving each in such manner as suited their tastes best.

No matter whether the weather is cloudy or not Shoaff can secure you as good a photograph on a dark day as on one when the sun is shining. "Rain or shine" is Shoaff's motto.

The price of coal is advancing and the poor will have to suffer accordingly, as they are the only ones who cannot take advantage of the season and lay in a supply for the coming cold weather.

Mr. Frank Covert celebrated his thirty-third birthday last evening and entertained a number of his friends quite royally. All expressed themselves as more than satisfied, and hoped he "might live long and be always happy."

Marriage licenses were issued to Joseph F. Ferry and Hannah Garner and William Teaser and Antillia Harrod. Mr. Ferry is a printer and understands the art of "setting them up" to perfection, so we bespeak for him plenty of joy.

A big dog from the rural districts called at the Meyer house this morning, and after warming himself comfortably concluded to take French leave, which he did by jumping through a large pane of glass in the door of the room formerly occupied as a barber shop.

There has been more marrying and larger prospect for weddings in the near future than has been seen for years. This is well. No man begins to live until happily mated. Thousands of young men now enduring boarding house miseries should note the drift of events and look about them. Long delays in matrimony, as in other things, are dangerous.

The friends of G. B. Irvin, astonished him last evening by presenting him enough wooden ware to start up a first-class store. George has been married just five years, but had forgotten how fast time flies until he was almost buried underneath the load of wooden utensils, but recovered from the surprise and entertained the folks in his usual hearty, good-souled manner.

In spite of the country's prosperity it is powerfully certain that the charitable societies will have ample work this winter in providing for the necessities of the poor among us. The sudden cold weather will increase the demands upon them for relief, and the charitably inclined should send contributions at once. If you know the names of any needy ones, do not fail to offer them assistance.

When Hanlan was defeated at Providence last summer a well-posted oarsman of this city said it was simply a trick of Hanlan, who had a race to row with Trickett this fall, and could make more money by losing than winning the Providence race; but he could defeat Trickett or any other oarsman in the world. That man knew what he was talking about.

A correspondent, who we suppose must be a hardened old maid, writes THE SENTINEL as follows: Is it a devotional feeling that prompts the burning of so much incense on Sunday evening? On my way to church it seemed to me as if every other man was engaged with his censor. I even saw one small boy puffing away with a manly air that indicated the putting away of childish things. If men will persist in smoking on the street won't some one join with me in petitioning that they use better cigars?

It may be a matter of interest to the public, who have long been greatly annoyed by the posting of boys all along the main streets, to force advertising hand bills on every passer by,
that some of the merchants who have abetted the nuisance are being bothered not a little by a similar pest.

The craze for collecting postage stamps, autographs, bird's eggs, etc., having died down a little, the children have turned their attention to advertising cards, and the consequence is that when the store door is slammed once by a bonafide customer it is put together with force by some urchin who blandly requires: "Mister, will you please give me an advertising card?" Things have come to that pass that many dealers take very little stock in s-r-a-j-books as advertising "mediums."

The Steuben Republican gives sound advice when it says: Take good care of the children during this weather. Provide them with good thick soled shoes and comfortable wraps. If you cannot afford to dress them warmly and "stylishly" at the same time, throw style to the winds, and keep them free from the croup anyway.

FOR LIFE.

In the Verdict of the Jury in the John Snurr Murder Case.

Other Items in and Around the Court House.

The jury in the Snurr murder trial, after deliberating two-nights and one day, returned a verdict this morning at 8:30 o'clock, sentencing John Snurr to the penitentiary for life, finding him guilty of manslaughter.

The verdict gives general satisfaction to the public, so far as we can learn, and the hopes for a new trial are not very bright. The jury was composed of good, honest men—men who would, and did, deliberate long before they would deprive a fellow being from his liberty for the remainder of his life, and they undoubtedly weighed well the testimony and arguments in the case as set before them by the witnesses and counsel. That our readers will think John Snurr has met his just deserts we do not for a moment doubt as they well remember the horrible details of Myer's tragic death.

The trial of Perry Snurr will commence in a week or ten days and he will no doubt be as fairly dealt with as was John.

The Lee Burt robbery case will be argued this afternoon before Judge Borden.

The arguments in the Hench-O'Rourke case have been postponed until to-morrow morning owing to the illness of Judge Morris. Mr. Hench feels confident that he will hold the office two years longer.

The superior court has adjourned until Monday at 9 o'clock.

Justice Ryan is hearing the case of Foley vs. Beach for the unlawful holding of property.

Everything is quiet along the line in the other justice offices and the constables and reporters are anxiously awaiting for something to turn up to relieve the monotony.

to do the work of journeymen, some times strike anything but a bonanza in that line as a certain local manufacturer can testify from recent experience. He hired a young man who "meant well but didn't know," and the boys soon found it out and had a benefit for a while. On the first job our hero undertook, he was given a file to work with which he found pretty dull, and so he told one of his companions, who accordingly sent him to the boss. He sent him to another, who in turn passed him along, and so on to the tenth who told him to sharpen it on the grindstone, which he did, with what effect can be imagined. The same inexperienced person was the fortunate possessor of a combined can-opener, tool-sharpener and tooth-pick, which he brought down to sharpen his reamer. Whether it was due to this or his fine handling of the machine we cannot tell, but the reamer broke. The young man said he would replace it, and was directed to call at the hardware store for a thirty-two caliber, dovetailed, long-rimmed reamer, and at the same time get a three-cornered rat-tailed file. He came back without them, saying the dealers were all out. Since then he has been initiated into the mysteries of right and left hand hammer, and the boys think he will soon be a full fledged "jour."

Bad Blood.

A couple of bloods, after filling themselves with turkey, whiskey and other Thanksgiving fixings, started out to enjoy a sleigh ride, and everything went along smoothly until Water street was reached, when the young man who sat beside the driver commenced reaching for the lines with the intention of having a hand in the management of the horse.
And here is just where the fun came in, for as they went to turn on Wells street, the sleigh upset, breaking both runners from the body and completely demoralizing the whole make up. The horse was fortunately secured without any further damage, while one of the young men caused considerable amusement to the bystanders by exclaiming, "You can't dive; I told you when we started that you couldn't dive." And so we left them arguing the matter as to the driving part, while the paying will come some other time.

Nine out of Ten

"Nine men out of ten neither hold nor expect an office; yet the nine allow themselves to be used by the tenth so that he may hold an office." This is the whole secret of the persistence of the non-political parties, in spite of their habitual subordination of public weal to public plunder. To break down this spoils partyism is the highest aim of the best friends of honorable party government. To that end, the increase of independence of the individual in politics is the first and most efficient step. New lamps, new hand painted China, new cut glass, new gold band China, new decorated tea and dinner sets, new Majolica ware, new plated silver ware, new toilet ware, new complement of our three Jolly Dogs, at Ward's new store on West Columbia street. Ward's Cheap Crockery Store.

Shoaff's photos emphatically take the lead for beauty of workmanship, and for general excellence they are unequaled. The practical knowledge acquired by Mr. Shoaff of the art of photography during years of hard study and close application is sufficient guarantee that work entrusted to his care will receive his close personal attention. His gallery is acknowledged to be the finest and best located in the city and his patronage is already large and constantly increasing. To those contemplating sittings we would say that they will best consult their own interests by calling on Mr. Shoaff. We assure them courteous treatment and entire satisfaction.
